Main Street Announces Preliminary Estimate of First Quarter 2025 Operating Results

Announces First Quarter 2025 Earnings Release and Conference Call Schedule

HOUSTON – April 16, 2025 – Main Street Capital Corporation (NYSE: MAIN) (“Main Street” or the “Company”) is pleased to announce its preliminary operating results for the first quarter of 2025 and its first quarter 2025 earnings release and conference call schedule.

In commenting on the Company’s preliminary operating results for the first quarter of 2025, Dwayne L. Hyzak, Main Street’s Chief Executive Officer, stated, “We are pleased with our performance in the first quarter, which resulted in another quarter of strong operating results, including a new record for net asset value per share for the eleventh consecutive quarter, favorable distributable net investment income per share and significant net unrealized appreciation, which resulted in an estimated return on equity of over 16% for the first quarter. We are pleased with our first quarter 2025 results and look forward to sharing the full details of our results in a few weeks.”

Preliminary Estimates of First Quarter 2025 Results

Main Street’s preliminary estimate of first quarter 2025 net investment income (“NII”) is $1.00 to $1.02 per share and distributable net investment income (“DNII”) is $1.06 to $1.08 per share.<sup>(1)</sup>

Main Street’s preliminary estimate of net asset value (“NAV”) per share as of March 31, 2025 is $32.00 to $32.06, representing an increase of $0.35 to $0.41 per share, or 1.1% to 1.3%, from the NAV per share of $31.65 as of December 31, 2024, with this increase after the impact of the supplemental dividend paid in March 2025 of $0.30 per share. The estimated increase in NAV per share is primarily due to the net fair value increase on the investment portfolio resulting from the net unrealized appreciation and the net realized loss on portfolio investments, including a decrease in the fair value of the wholly-owned asset manager, and the accretive impact of equity issuances during the quarter, partially offset by the net tax provision for the quarter.

As a result of Main Street’s preliminary estimates of NII, net changes in the fair market value of its investment portfolio and the net tax provision as noted above, Main Street estimates that it generated a quarterly annualized return on equity of over 16% for the first quarter of 2025.<sup>(2)</sup>

Main Street preliminarily estimates that investments on non-accrual status comprised 1.7% of the total investment portfolio at fair value and 4.5% at cost as of March 31, 2025.

Investment Portfolio Activity

The Company's first quarter 2025 operating activities include the following investment activity in the lower middle market ("LMM"), private loan and middle market investment strategies:

- $86.2 million in total LMM portfolio investments, which after aggregate repayments of debt investments resulted in a net increase of $57.3 million in the total cost basis of the LMM investment portfolio;
- $138.2 million in total private loan portfolio investments, which after aggregate repayments of debt investments, return of invested equity capital and a decrease in cost basis due to realized losses on several private loan portfolio investments resulted in a net increase of $25.6 million in the total cost basis of the private loan investment portfolio; and
- a net decrease of $44.2 million in the total cost basis of the middle market investment portfolio.

Endnote

8

- (1) Distributable net investment income is net investment income as determined in accordance with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, or U.S. GAAP, excluding the impact of non-cash compensation expenses, which includes both share-based compensation expenses and deferred compensation expense or benefit. Main Street believes presenting distributable net investment income per share is useful and appropriate supplemental disclosure for analyzing its financial performance, since share-based compensation does not require settlement in cash and deferred compensation expense or benefit does not result in a net cash impact to Main Street upon settlement. However, distributable net investment income is a non-U.S. GAAP measure and should not be considered as a replacement for net investment income and other earnings measures presented in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Instead, distributable net investment income should be reviewed only in connection with such U.S. GAAP measures in analyzing Main Street's financial performance. In order to reconcile estimated distributable net investment income per share to estimated net investment income per share in accordance with U.S. GAAP for the first quarter of 2025, an estimated $0.05 to $0.06 per share of non-cash compensation expenses are added back to calculate estimated distributable net investment income per share.
- (2) Return on equity equals the net increase in net assets resulting from operations divided by the average quarterly total net assets.
- (3) No information contained on the Company's website or disclosed on the May 9, 2025 conference call, including the webcast and the archived versions, is incorporated by reference in this press release or any of the Company's filings with the SEC, and you should not consider that information to be part of this press release or any other such filing.
